SUBJECT: Draft Memo

Dear Jamie,

Thanks for taking the time to stop by and discuss your information initiative with us. Reviewing the draft you provided, I think it would be strengthened not only by the inclusion of "public diplomacy" in your opening, as we had indicated during the meeting, but also by adding the following to your "Scope" section on page 2:

- ◆ Capabilities and resources for assessing both the state of foreign public opinion in specified crisis areas in order to develop information programs, and the effectiveness of information campaigns on target audiences once the programs have been implemented.

This would hold a place not only for the type of public opinion surveying that we carry out, but also for our ongoing analyses of international media reaction. If you are interested, I can provide you with examples of both types of assessments, by mail, fax or e-mail.

Best regards.

TO: S/SR - Robert S. Gelbard
FROM: EUR/EEA - Thomas C. Adams TLA
SUBJECT: U.S. Programming for ANEM TV

Serbian independent journalist and media organizer Veran Matic met last week with Ambassador Elizabeth Frawley Bagley. At that meeting, Matic talked about ANEM TV, the independent television network he is setting up in Serbia and Montenegro. Matic emphasized that in order to maximize the audience for ANEM TV's news and public affairs shows, the network needs to have strong entertainment programming. Noting Ambassador Bagley's highly successful effort to secure U.S. programming for OBN, Matic asked if she could do something similar for ANEM TV.

Ambassador Bagley replied that before she could make any commitment to ANEM TV, she would have to discuss current U.S. media-assistance priorities in the region with you. She mentioned that there had been talk of her helping to secure programming for RTV BiH.

Clearly the key issue here is whether Ambassador Bagley is willing to enter into any new effort to secure free or reduced-cost U.S. programming. I realize that projects of this type are very time-consuming, and Ambassador Bagley cannot keep going back to the same sources.

However, if she is willing to enter into the fray again, I strongly believe that ANEM TV should be given precedence over RTV BiH.

It is hard to overstate the political significance of the ANEM TV project. Successfully establishing an independent television network in Serbia-Montenegro would significantly increase the likelihood of positive political change in Belgrade--a development that would benefit the entire region.

I do not believe the stakes are anywhere near as high with RTV BiH. Certainly we should support RTV BiH as it restructures itself--and we are doing just that, having already committed a total of $500,000. But if there is a possibility of getting another package of top-flight American programming, I am convinced giving that programming to ANEM TV would have a much greater strategic impact.

Moreover--although Ambassador Bagley is the final authority on this--it seems to me that ANEM would be a much easier sell with potential program donors. ANEM TV is a sharp stick in the eye of the Milosevic regime, and is being run by individuals like Veran Matic who have a solid track record of mounting effective opposition to the Belgrade government. If we pose the question: "What can we do to encourage political change in Serbia-Montenegro?" it's hard to come up with a better answer than: "Support the development of an independent television network."

With RTV BiH, on the other hand, it would be a matter of asking for programming for a state television network that, in terms of audience and advertisers, is in direct competition with OBN, the network that donors were asked to help the first time around. RTV BiH and, for that matter, SRT, should be told that they will have access to the type of programming provided to OBN only as part of a consolidation/rationalization of the overcrowded Bosnian TV airwaves.

If you concur with this, could you call Ambassador Bagley and ask her to work on getting programming for ANEM TV? Bruce Armstrong on my staff remains available to staff efforts in this regard.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Joe Marty, NSC/NEA (fax 456-9120)
Jaimie Metzl, NSC

FROM: David P. Good, USIA/NEA

SUBJECT: Recommended media events for Bruce Reidel

We recommend that Bruce do the following:

Give us an hour on Monday morning, about 8:00 am, to do two telephone interviews.

The first half-hour an on-the-record interview with one or more editors at Al-Ahram Arabic daily in Cairo. The Egyptian media has been extremely critical and this is an opportunity to speak directly to the individual(s) who write the columns and editorials for that influential daily.

The second half-hour an on-the-record interview with the London-based Arabic daily ash-SHarq al-Awsat. This newspaper is pan-Arab, with distribution throughout the Arab world. It helps to set the agenda for intellectual discussion of Middle Eastern issues in the region.

These two interviews would reach across the Arab world and also deeply into a critical country (Egypt) whose support is absolutely necessary for a successful Iraqi policy.

Per my earlier batch of comments, have the legal offices in State and DOD cleared on the detailee and flexible

Both agencies have cleared, and this included consideration by their legal offices

Has the Senior Adviser position

It has not, how would you propose noting that contingency in the text?

Here's the explanation:

We would benefit greatly by Sandy's buy-in before the DC. Here's why...

The IPI group is a very good idea, but I think it will be met with an unenthusiastic response by State -- grudging at best, hostile at worst -- based mostly on general State line: "we don't need a new institution, and, even if we do, it should be something that we thought of." Dick C. didn't help the cause when he accompanied Jamie to the Pickering briefing -- Pickering saw Clarke and was spooked by the specter of another NSC power grab -- even though we are prepared to put together a group that State could chair (so long as they were serious about the effort).

I know we could get an endorsement of sorts from SRB without a briefing, but that won't take us very far if State is really resistant. I don't know that they will be, but if they are, I want to be sure we have genuine top cover before we engage.

Eric--

Jamie called us several times

re. this already. What I don't understand is why we don't have the DC before presenting anything to Sandy. If you think better otherwise, ok, but needs some explaining.

Thanks.

Sandy:

During the last Iraq crisis, you remarked many times on the importance of marshalling all of our information resources -- e.g., USIA, VOA, DoD civic affairs, etc. -- to make the case for our policy to communities abroad. Gingrich wrote to you on the same issue, and DoD has pushed for a more coherent and cohesive USG international public information effort generally. (As I recall, Slocombe wrote to you on this when you were the DAPNSA.)

Initially under Dick Clarke's tutelage and now under mine, Jamie Metzl has run an interagency information group that has drafted a PDD on this issue. The PDD will be one of the subjects of a DC we expect Don Kerrick to chair this month on U.S. efforts in the area of international public information. It envisions the creation of a standing interagency group to bring together all the public information resources of the USG.

Jamie has an excellent, short, presentation on this issue that he has already given to Tom Pickering as well as to Greg Craig and others. I understand Dick has encouraged you to see Jamie's presentation as well. Given the importance of this issue, and the value of your knowledge and support of this effort, I also recommend you agree to see it.

If you agree, we will work with Sharon to set something up.

Eric
